YACHTING FATALITY.

Overcome by a Gale During a Race at St. John.

EIGHT MEN MET A WATERY GRAVE.

The Yacht Primrose Thrown on Her Beam Ends and Sunk—Captain Hutton, Who Sailed Her, Was Once a Famous Oarsman, of International Reputation.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 22.—During many years St. John has had many sporting events of more than local importance, and the great majority have passed off without serious accident, but yesterday's yacht race for the Corporation cup resulted in putting mourning into at least eight families.

The yachts started out with a good stiff breeze. Nothing of importance happened until the yachts had rounded the last buoy and homeward bound, when all were to change. To the westward plain indications of a storm could be seen. The tug Lilly, which had on board the referee, judges, timers and other officials, came to all the points where the yachts were expected. In a short time the storm came, with rain and a high wind, followed a few minutes later by a hailstorm. The yachts had their sails all set when the squall struck.

The Lillie remained at anchor, and in a short time the yachts were all out of sight, with the storm raging furiously. The Maple Leaf was some little distance off from the others and was the first to receive the brunt of the squall. The crew made an effort to take in sail, but before they could accomplish this work the topmast was carried away.

The Primrose was well in shore when struck, and she lasted but a few minutes. She was thrown on her beam ends and in an instant she plunged bow first to the bottom. Captain Hutton had ordered all sails taken in, but the squall came up before the crew could obey his orders. Hutton stood at the tiller and told the crew to look out for themselves, and the next minute all were in the water and the Primrose had disappeared from sight.

As the storm struck the people on the Lorne shore some point was missing and immediately got up steam, for a search for the missing yacht. After going about a quarter of a mile four men, in close proximity, were found swimming about in the still heavy running sea. Life buoys were thrown out, and each of the men begged the occupants of the tug not to mind them, as they could swim, but to proceed along and search for the others. This the Lillie did, but only some hats and caps could be seen floating about, and the tug returned and picked up the four men, who were still swimming about, after having been in the water over half an hour.

The following are the names of the drowned: Samuel Hutton, aged 50, leaves a widow and three sons. Captain Frost, aged 40, single. George Brayfield, aged 25, single. A. Manly, aged 26, single, and the cook, Sproul, aged 30, a widowed mother. Geo. E. Fiske, aged 27, leaves a widow and one infant son. James Hurley, aged [illegible], leaves a widow and seven children. William Hamilton, aged [illegible], single. H. [illegible], aged [illegible], single.

Samuel Hutton was the best known oarsman [illegible]. He was a member of [illegible] Paris crew, which won [illegible] championship. The remains of [illegible] were found in the crew, who [illegible] have not been a [illegible] Dominion Day regatta. Probably the Primrose of St. John will be best remembered in the United States by old sporting men as having administered a severe defeat to the once famous Ward brothers.

The four rescued men cannot tell anything about the sad accident. They were all so utterly bewildered, while the crew of the Maple Leaf, which was but a hundred yards from the Primrose, were so thoroughly panic stricken that they don't know exactly what happened. The other four yachts sustained more or less damage.

Rev. Mr. Moseley Released.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Some days ago dispatches from Mexico announced that Rev. H. R. Moseley, a Baptist minister, had been imprisoned at Saltillo, Mexico, as the result of publishing a pamphlet entitled "Three Centuries of Romanism in Mexico." It is probable that the reverend gentleman was arrested by the local authorities to preserve him from harm quite as much as to punish him. At any rate they made no objection when United States Consul General Donnelly requested his release, and the consul general notified the state department by telegraph yesterday that he had escorted the minister safely across the border.

Hood's Has Wrought Wonders.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has wrought wonders with me. I have had the grip every spring for three years and last spring it left me with a cough and I could hardly walk. I used two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and was cured. In fact, Hood's Sarsaparilla is our cure all and it is the best blood purifier I know of." William D. Huntley, Mexico, N.Y.

Hood's Pills cure indigestion.

Just Married.

How loving they are; this is always a sure sign. After the first year sometimes it don't hold good. When Charles comes home to you grouty and cross, snapping and snarling, unable to relish the nice dinner you have cooked, and feels as if there was a ton of pig iron in his stomach, he is troubled with dyspepsia, and Sulphur Bitters is the only medicine that will cure him.

APPEAL FOR PULLMAN STRIKERS

Governor Altgeld Asks the People of Illinois for Assistance.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—"I can do little myself," said Governor Altgeld yesterday, "and if anything considerable were to be done the money would have to come out of the governmental reserve fund. I might convene the legislature for the purpose of making an appropriation, or I might make an appeal to the people of the state. I think we have gone to the bottom of things now, and can proceed intelligently until it remains to be seen what will be done."

The governor said these words at the close of a conference with the committee respecting the Pullman strike. At the invitation of the governor, the committee met at his office to give him information regarding the starving strikers. He was told that 2,175 families have been helped since the beginning of the strike, and that about $24,000 has been given the relief committee all of which has been expended.

Last night the governor issued a proclamation, addressed to the people of Illinois, calling attention to the suffering in Pullman, and urging that assistance be at once sent to them. He says that as a rule the men of Pullman are of a superior class of working people, industrious, capable and steady.

On Sunday last the governor sent a telegram to Mr. Pullman calling his attention to the situation, and yesterday, after his investigation, he wrote Mr. Pullman a letter asking him to put the men on half time. Mr. Pullman replied at length, making reference to the governor's declination of Vice President Wickes' escort, which he regretted. Mr. Pullman claimed that the governor had been misled in some instances, but admitted the distress, "due to the obstinacy of old employes refusing to apply for their old places after the strike was virtually over."

On receiving this letter Governor Altgeld determined to appeal for aid.

Fought Fifty-six Rounds to a Draw.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 22.—Solomon English, of Baltimore, and John Ball, of Newark, N. J., fought to a draw yesterday about ten miles from the city. The fight was witnessed by more than a hundred persons from Baltimore and a party from Newark who came to back their man. The fight was for a $100 purse and the gate receipts. English did most of the punishing, and in the seventeenth round scored a clean knockdown. After the fortieth round both men were weak, and from that stage on it was a struggle of endurance. For the last three rounds both men were so weak that they only stood up and looked at each other, and at the end of the fifty-sixth round the referee decided the fight a draw. The men were in the fight three hours and three-quarters.

Buried in a Collapsed Building.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 22.—While workmen were tearing down an old brick building at the corner of Ward and Richland streets yesterday the house collapsed, burying about a dozen children and three men in the ruins. Four of the children were taken out badly injured and three others with severe cuts and bruises. The injured are Willie Sullivan, aged 11, cut and bruised and spine injured, recovery doubtful; Carl Grandberg, 12 years old, cut and bruised about the body and nose nearly severed; John McGrath, aged 9 years, severely injured about the head; Willie Ward, 10 years old, arm crushed and body bruised. The children were crying near by the old wall

A Husband's Terrible Discovery.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 22.—Thomas Harris, of Perrysville borough, returned yesterday from Mt. Carmel, where he had been for his health. He found his home closed, and after much trouble broke in. He found the dead and decomposed body of his wife on the bed, and by her side those of their two children, aged 3 and 4 years respectively. The woman died last Thursday from hemorrhage, and her head was saturated with blood. The neighbors supposed that the family was away. The children are in a precarious condition from lack of food and breathing the contaminated atmosphere so long.

Officers of the Kregerbund.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 22.—Yesterday was the closing day of the tenth Kregerbund festival. These officers were elected: President, C. E. Wairuff of Kansas City, Mo.; Fritz Schrader of Baltimore, vice president, Julius Eggers of Chicago, secretary; Lewis R. Ertel of Cincinnati, treasurer. A. Buschmann of Cincinnati, attorney. Joseph Schleuecker of Chicago was elected treasurer and M. Goss of Chicago secretary of the insurance fund. The meeting adjourned to meet in Columbus, O., next year.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggists, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with LaGrippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after useing three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We wont keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at McMonagle and Rogers' Drug Store.

The Puzzle Solved.

Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most nauseous and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the many modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. No druggist is without it.

ABBOTT KNOCKED OUT.

Jack Everhardt, of New Orleans, Defeats the English Lightweight.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22.—There were 5,000 spectators seated in the Olympic club arena last night at 9.15, when time was called for the twenty-five round scientific glove contest between Stanton Abbott, the champion lightweight of England, and Jack Everhardt, of this city, for a purse of $1,500.

Abbott commenced the fight by landing a sharp body blow. Some heavy in-fighting followed near the ropes. Abbott doing the best hitting. In a clinch honors were easy. In the second round the Englishman seemed to confine his fighting principally to the body, and both men landed blows on the head.

The fight continued with but slight variation to the eight round, when Abbott, in a hot rally in the center of the ring, apparently had the best of it and landed frequently on his opponent's face. In the ninth round there was some hot fighting, as in the tenth and eleventh rounds. Abbott had more the best of it, knocking Everhardt down with a left in the face.

From this time up to the twentieth round Abbott was in the best condition. From the twenty-second to the twenty-fourth the fighting was furious. Everhardt improved in condition, while Abbott looked tired.

In the twenty-fifth round Abbott was completely knocked out, after having been knocked down a half dozen times. During the last part of the contest Everhardt fouled Abbott several times, but no notice was taken of it.

Wife Murder and Attempted Suicide.

READING, Pa., Aug. 22.—A murder and attempted suicide occurred in this city yesterday. The murderer was Reuben H. Walters, aged 55 years, a hatter by trade, and the victim his wife, aged 45 years. Walters was of a quarrelsome disposition, and came home drunk Monday night. He immediately began a quarrel with his wife, and the two renewed the dispute yesterday afternoon. While they were in their bedroom Walters drew a weapon and shot his wife three times. The woman dragged herself down stairs into the kitchen, where the neighbors found her dead. Meanwhile Walters placed the pistol to his head and fired two shots, which did but little harm. The police then arrived and arrested Walters. Mrs. Walters was a woman of fine personal appearance, and her husband was insanely jealous of her. This is thought to be the motive for the crime. The couple had six children.

Singular Suit for Damages.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 18.—William Stanley, a farmer of Pendleton, Ind., is preparing to sue Congressman Bynum, of Indiana, for $1,500. During the last presidential campaign Stanley heard Mr. Bynum deliver a speech in which he said if the Democratic party was successful wheat would be worth $1.25 a bushel. Stanley went home and sowed wheat extensively, and raised a crop of 2,000 bushels. This he declares he has been compelled to sell at different prices between forty-five and fifty cents a bushel. He will sue the congressman for the difference between what he realized and what he would have received had the congressman's assertions been verified.

Alix's Great Performance.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Alix yesterday trotted a mile at Washington Park, and the exhibition was pronounced by nearly all the horsemen present to be the greatest ever made in the sulky. It reduced the track record of 2:06¾, held by Nancy Hanks, and will be but 1½ seconds short of the world's record, was really a better performance, conditions considered. The Washington Park is at least a second and a half slow. John Kelly, who handled Directum last year, said: "This is the greatest mile ever trotted. Had Alix been sent against the record last week at Terre Haute she would have undoubtedly have beaten it."

She Swindled Yale Graduates.

HARTFORD, Aug. 22.—The developments in the case of Mrs. Robbins the confidence woman under arrest here, who claimed to be a Yale man's sister, and indicate that she is associated with her husband and perhaps others in a scheme to victimize Yale graduates all over the country. Dr. Robert P. M. Ames, of Springfield, came here yesterday and identified "Mrs. Robbins" as the woman who last week swindled Yale graduates in that city.

Another Suspected Bank Clerk Arrested.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 22.—The latest move in the affairs of the Second National bank was the arrest yesterday of Harry Clabaugh, another clerk in the bank, on the same charge as that preferred against Mayberry Miller, falsifying the books of the bank with intent to deceive the examiner. Both men have secured bail in the sum of $5,000 for their appearance at a hearing.

A Horrible Railroad Accident

VICTORIES FOR CHINA.

Japanese Forces Driven from Ping-Yang and Chung-Ho.

CHINAMEN MARCHING ON SEOUL.

Nine Thousand Japanese Troops Have Left the Corean Capital for Ping-Yang, and Another Great Battle Is Predicted. General Yeh Still Alive.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 22.—General Tio, commander of the Feng-Tien division of the Chinese forces, telegraphs as follows: "The Chinese on Friday attacked the Japanese forces at Ping-Yang, driving them back with a heavy loss, a distance of eleven miles, to Chung Ho. The Chinese made a second attack on Saturday and drove the Japanese from Chung-Ho, which is now in Chinese hands. The Japanese again lost heavily in Saturday's fighting. Another great battle is expected."

It is reported by private telegrams that there was great slaughter of men in the battle at Chung-Ho on Saturday.

The Chinese force which occupied Yaslan has evacuated that place and marched eastward in the direction of Seoul. The force, which is under General Yeh, who was falsely reported to have been killed in a recent battle, has been augmented by the adhesion of numbers of sympathizing Coreans. The Chinese forces are converging on Ping-Yang. The telegraph at the latter point remains in the possession of the Chinese. The Chinese is enjoying full possession of the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li.

The Japanese are re-embarking large numbers of troops at Fusan. Nothing is known regarding their destination. Nine thousand Japanese troops have left Seoul and marched in the direction of Ping-Yang.

Two German fathers of the Catholic mission at Si-Ninng-Chou, in the southern part of the province of Shan-Tung, have been captured by Banditti and held for ransom. A government posse sent in pursuit of the robbers has been unable to capture them.

Admiral Fremantle, the British commander, has established the headquarters of his fleet provisionally at Che-Foo, where the British, Russian and Italian ministers now are.

It is stated that James Wylie, a Presbyterian missionary, has died from injuries received at the hands of Chinese soldiers marching to Corea at Liao-Yang, north of New-Chwang, China.

Necessity for Anti-Anarchist Laws.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. — This report favoring the rigid exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists has been made by the house committee on judiciary: "It is admitted on all hands that the question is one of very great importance and that legislation on the subject is called for by every consideration of public safety. The committee is advised that, owing to the severe legislation recently adopted by France and Italy, a great many dangerous anarchists are making their way to the United States, and as under existing laws they cannot be denied admission to our territory, the United States will soon be the rendezvous of these human monsters unless the proposed legislation is speedily adopted."

A Bluefields Refugee Detained.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22.—The steamship Nicaragua, which arrived at Port Morgan yesterday from Bluefields loaded with fruit, was ordered into quarantine because she had on board John McCafferty, an American newspaper correspondent and a refugee from Bluefields. McCafferty had taken a leading part in the revolutionary movement in opposition to Nicaragua. The quarantine laws prohibit a fruit vessel from bringing refugees from Central American ports. The captain of the Nicaragua was instructed to bring McCafferty here by the commander of the United States cruiser Columbia.

Resisting Extradition.

ALBANY, Aug. 22.—Albert Perrin, senior member of the firm of Perrin & Co., at 122 East Twenty-third street, New York, who was arrested Saturday charged with absconding ten years ago from San Francisco with $10,000 worth of jewelry, was here yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Perrin for the hearing before Governor Flower in the matter of his extradition, which he resists. It was postponed, however, till today. Mr. Goodrich, Perrin's lawyer, believes that Governor Flower will revoke the warrant of arrest.

Dr. Hand's Diarrhœa Mixture.

"My baby is subject to severe attacks of diarrhœa. During the last sickness Dr. Hand's Diarrhœa Mixture was freely given and an immediate cure resulted. It would have required a dozen visits of a physician as on former occasions. I believe Dr. Hand's Remedies would have saved the life of the child I lost, had they been within my reach at the time of its sickness."—Mrs. F. H. Bennett, 752 New St., Camden, N. J. 25c. The Weavers' Strike at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Aug. 22.—Five more mills shut down yesterday as a result of the weavers' strike, and in the mills that are still open the number of looms in operation is about 1,500 less than on Monday. The mills now closed are the Barnard, Narragansett, Sagamore, Flint, Stafford, Wampanoag and Weetamoe. The Flint mills, however, were to close this week for repairs. The Union mills, which are running have got about 1,600 looms, but all of the others have lost slightly. The manufacturers assert that the outlook is encouraging, and expect to hold out. The weavers are also firm and confidently expect victory.

Murdered from Ambush.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 22.—A horrible tragedy occurred five miles from the city, in which Gaus Brock and an old negro was killed and Mrs. Mary Edwards, an aged white lady, seriously wounded. They were driving to the city when Brock was at asked by James Murrell and John Linchard, white men, who opened fire on him from ambush. Brock was shot dead and Mrs. Edwards received two wounds in the face. The shooting was the result of a dispute between the negro and white men. Murrell was arrested and Linchard escaped.

Father and Son Killed by Explosion.

ELWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 22.—A boiler explosion occurred four miles from this place. Levi Boiler and son Harry, of Fumbet, Mercer county, were both instantly killed, and Logan McIlvaine, of Wurtemburg, was fatally injured. All three men worked for Arthur Seaton, of Mercer, who owns the planing mill where the explosion took place. Fire had been built under an old boiler, which they were cautioned not to use. The boiler was blown 400 feet away. The mill was completely wrecked.

Indictments Against Abe Buzzard.

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 22.—The grand jury yesterday afternoon returned twenty-two bills of indictments against Abe Buzzard, the notorious "king" of the Welsh mountain outlaws, who, after serving a long term in the Eastern penitentiary, was pardoned two years ago. The charges made in the indictments are numerous, and range from larceny to felonious assault and burglary. Eight others of the Welsh mountain gang have also been indicted.

Want Germany to Annex Samoa.

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—A petition to the emperor signed by the German residents of Apia, Samoa, favoring the annexation of the Samoan islands by Germany, declares that the establishment of a joint Anglo-German protectorate in the event of the United States withdrawing from the tripartite agreement would lead to the extinction of German interests in the South seas.

The American Catholic Church.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—The convention of independent Polish Catholics yesterday defeated a motion that the delegates renounce their allegiance to the Pope of Rome forever. A motion that they recognize officially Archbishop Villatte as the head of this new church was passed. A resolution was passed establishing the name American Catholic church for the society.

Murderously Assaulted by Italians.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 22.—David Cope, superintendent of the Wilkesbarre and Laurel Run Turnpike company, was murderously attacked and badly hurt by a gang of Italian workmen during a row which he was trying to prevent. His injuries are of such a character that his life is despaired of. Constables are looking for the assailants.

To be Tried for Murder.

WOODLAND, Cal., Aug. 22.—Knox, Compton, Mullan and Hatch, the members of the mediation committee of the Sacramento A. R. U., arrested for ditching a train on July 11 and causing the death of Engineer Sam Clark and four United States soldiers, were held for murder by the superior court. They were released on $10,000 bail.

TARIFF BILL BLUNDERS

The Senate Alone Responsible for the Errors.

THE MISPLACING OF A SEMICOLON.

It Is Responsible for the Placing of Diamonds on the Free List—Musical Instruments Under the Head of "Explosive Substances."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The enrolling clerks of the house and the chairman of the house committee on enrolled bills deny most emphatically that they are responsible for any of the errors in punctuation or otherwise that threaten to defeat the intention of congress with reference to various tariff schedules. They say that four comparisons of the enrolled bills and the measure as passed by the senate were made, and that congress is responsible for many errors. It is asserted that a careful comparison would show that the enrolled bill is an absolutely perfect copy of the bill as it passed the senate.

Mr. George B. Parsons, the chief enrolling clerk, said: "We cannot go by scholastic standards, but are obliged to follow copy to the strict letter. We suppose that the house and the senate know what they are about. Now, I do not deny that there are mistakes in the bill that is very apparent. But these mistakes were made in the drafting of the senate amendments, which as you know, were adopted entire by the house without a stroke of difference.

"The main item of error seems to be that diamonds have been placed upon the free list. This occurred evidently because the senate used a semicolon instead of a colon after the word 'diamonds' in the free list. Although it occurred to me after we had copied the item that a colon was meant, we had no authority here to make a change, for that would be for us to assume the right to legislate. We have no such right wherever, nor have we a right to construe the intention of the legislators, for that would give us the authority of a court.

"Now, if we want to go ahead and have some fun out of this bill we can do it just as easily here as the folks in the treasury department, for we have found some very funny things in the official copy of the bill. I will instance one of them. Musical instruments are to be noted in the bill under the head of 'Explosive Substances.' The senate amendment read to insert the musical instruments paragraph after line 25 on a certain page, which brought it between the item of friction matches and that of percussion caps. Of course this surprised us somewhat, but we concluded that the author of the amendment lived next door to some chap who has a grown daughter who is learning to play on a second hand piano."

Representative Pearson, of Ohio, the chairman of the enrolled bills committee, affirmed all that Mr. Parsons had said as to the accuracy of the enrolled copy.

A member of the house, in speaking of the number of mistakes discovered, said: "The house adopted the senate bill entire. To have amended even the semicolon after the word diamonds would have necessitated the return of the bill to the senate, which was precisely what the house managers did not desire. Had an effort been made to amend this and other errors of punctuation it is quite than probable that the bill would have by this time received a totally different fate to that which it met."

Big Fire at Hammondsport, N. Y.

HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., Aug. 22.—At 4:30 yesterday afternoon fire broke out in the large grist mill and wine box factory of Charles Chapman. The flames communicated to a pile of 100,000 feet of fine quality of lumber, used in the manufacture of wine boxes, and soon both were destroyed. The ice house of Harry Caplan next caught fire and was destroyed, and then the fire spread to dwellings near by some thirty of which were destroyed. Over a hundred people are homeless.

HE WAS BUT A WORM

JUMPIN JOE OF CHEROKEE MEETS A YEARNING STRANGER.

And From Purely Philanthropic Motives He Leads Him to Where a Loving Widow Waits and Installs Him Into the Bosom of Her Family.

I was passin from the strugglin town of Bald Hill to the enterprisin settlement of Last Chance when a critter overtakes me in a humble way and meekly obsarves:

"Stranger, we know not what a day may bring forth, and the wind bloweth whar she listeth."

"I hev obsarved that she do," sez I, "and procrastinashun ar' the thief of time."

"Yes, she be, and he that seeketh truth seeketh a jewel of great price; also, we cometh up like a flower and ar' cut down."

"Trooly, my friend, trooly. From yer languidge I should infer that ye was a humble worm of the dust."

"Yea, I am but a worm."

"And what pertickler line ar' ye wormin in now, if it hain't strictly private bizness?"

"A-s'archin," he replies, with a mournful sigh and several shakes of the head—"a-s'archin fur a waterfall and a lake below it, with islands and green shores wharon ye kin sot as night wraps her mantle about her, and the medder larks and whippoorwills cum down to give up to thar sad emoshuns."

"That would be too rich fur the blood of sich a humble worm as I am. I'm not expectin to live in heaven and Cherokee at the same time. When I'm done with one, I hope to take t'other. Into each life a leetle rain must fall; also, man dieth and wasteth away, and whar is he?

"And we know not how soon we may die. Likewise, a bird in the hand is wuth two in the bush. Humble worm of the dust, ye kin unburden yer woes to me in strict confidence. I take it that the partner of yer busum is no more on top the airth?"

"No more, no more," he sadly replies as his emoshuns was visible to the naked eye.

"And the bereavement is of recent date?"

"Jest two weeks ago today. It's only within the last two days that the humble worm has begun to feel frolicsome ag'in."

"The lamb and the widower may frolic, and man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn."

"Yea, stranger, yea. But we kin not allus sorrer."

"Not if we kin find a second wife, and I think we kin. I think we kin not only find her, but within the hour the sadness which now occupies the chambers of yer soul will hev bin crowded out to make room fur another tenant. I know a bank on which the wild thyme grows—that is, it would grow thar if a widder and her peaceful flock had not taken up all the room afore the wild thyme had a squar' chance."

ON THE BANKS OF WOLF RUN

"Art she young and coy?" he asks as he wipes away the reflective tear.

"Skassly, my humble ole worm, or she wouldn't be wastin on the banks of Wolf run for sum critter to cum along and go sailin with her out on the oshun of luv. Ye hain't no right to be too doggoned pertickler under the sarcumstances."

"That's true," he sez as we reaches the top of a hill and takes the left hand road. "Bein sumwhat young and coy myself, I naterally preferred sum one with whom my soul would be in unison, but I shan't kick about it. As to the children, however?"

"Thar's nine of them, as nigh as I could count in ridin by, and mebbe they'll go as high as 'leven. At any rate, if thar' hain't nuff ye kin find plenty to adopt. Ye hev all the 'pearances of bein a fond and luvin father. When I am fur, fur away, and the day fades into silent darkness, I'll think of ye as seated in the busum of yer happy family and blessin the memory of the pilgrim whose mishun it ar' to interdooce Cherokee sassyparilly and Magic cement into this porshun of the civilized world."

"'Leven children will make a pooty big busum, I take it," sez the ole worm as the hump on his back humped up a leetle higher.

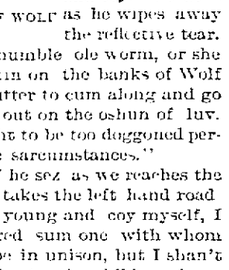
"What's that to do with it?" sez I, pullin up my hoss and lookin him over. "Sumbody's got to marry that widder, I take it."

"Yea, sumbody has."

"And sum critter has got to be seated in the busum of that fam'ly?"

"Yea, yea. Whilst under other sarcumstances I should prefer sumthin young and coy, with not over two encumbrances, I shall make no kick. On the contrary, let us hasten our pace."

Half an hour later we reached the wild thyme bank and found the widder and the children cooped in and under a wagon. The widder was bareheaded, bare-armed and bare-futted, but the way she made the dust flv as she handled the hoe had a soothin effect on the humble ole worm, who had at fust seemed on the p'int of gallopin off. When the widder cum for ds to see what was wanted, I places my hand on my heart and sez:



"FAREWELL, THOU LAMBKINS."

'Widder, two weeks agone, whilst the twinklin stars kept vigil in the skies and on airth men slept and dreamed, an angel flew down and stole away the speerit of this man's partner."

"And he's lookin fur another?"

"He ar'."

"What hev ye got behind ye?" she asks as she looks up at him.

"This ole hoss, a claim of 60 and a luv-in heart," he replies.

"And I've got a claim of 60, 'leven children and a habit of gittin out to work at 5 o'clock in the mornin. Ye hain't much of a critter when compared with the crowd, but I reckon it's the best both of us kin do under the sarcumstances. Ar' ye willin?"

"Yea, willin'ly willin."

"But who's to marry us?"

"Yer humble servant, ma'am," sez I. Thar's to be no waitin, no chances, no fees. Jine hands and stand before me."

"Be ye a preacher?" sez she, hanging back a leetle and at the same time cuffin most of the 'leven children into shape.

"I'm a-sellin of Cherokee sassyparilly and Magic cement and seekin to bring happiness whar sorrer occupied the soul afore. Wipe yer noses and jine right hands. Thar ye ar', and I now pronounce ye man and wife and bid ye adew at the same time. I hev probably missed the sale of at least five bottles of that remedy of mine fur restorin the lost enthoosiasm of the human system, but I've brung two yearnin souls together to begin a new career of bliss, and yer lastin gratitoode must be my reward. Farewell, thou lambkins, farewell!"

AUSTIN KEENE.

Send it Back

Song of the washboard.

Endless rubbing—tiresome, ruinous, back-breaking; wear and tear on things rubbed; wear and tear on temper and health; wear and tear on everything—even the washboard itself.

It's all done away with, if you use Pearline. There isn't any washboard; there isn't any rubbing on it; there's no wear and tear, and there's very little work. It's the only sensible way of washing—easy, economical, and, above all things, absolutely safe.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 413 JAMES PYLE, New York.

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

MR. WILSON TALKS.

MY Name is Wilson; I do an insurance business on LaSalle street, in Chicago Ill., and I live in Evanston, Ill. Evanston is what was originally a scattering population on a pretty point on Lake Michigan, esteemed years ago far from the city of Chicago, but now one of the varied towns which may go within it by vote of the population.

I am married and have a wife and one child. That child is a boy (I suppose I should feel the same solicitude if it was a girl), and I have a father's natural fancies as to what must be the best thing to give that child the right kind of intelligence, and so divert his course that he may succeed in life. I have studied a great deal upon the subject. My own experience would not be of great value, because I have succeeded only to the limit of the average man and am barely established; still, I own the house and lot upon which I live, and am feeling perfectly safe in meeting the exigencies of the year. I want the boy to take a broader view than I did to be a bigger man in the world. I have studied how to teach him to do that, and he has done pretty well, as far as the preliminaries go. Now, I have thought over what I should say to him and have sometimes been puzzled. I could not very well tell him what to do. I wanted to tell him what I needed but what I did not learn myself when I was of his age, and what my father did not know how to tell me, or else was not thoughtful enough to do so. I wanted to tell him how to follow the example of those who have succeeded at the present time and under the circumstances which ordinarily affect a young man struggling in this Republic established on this comparatively new world to-day. I wanted to tell him just what he had better do to get along well, and to point out to him what had been done by the people who were successful at the present time.

Of course, the record of the people of any time past would not be of so much value, because circumstances must necessarily have been different when they were alive. I feel confident, though, that if I could learn, some way and somehow, what the people who are so successful to day have done and how they did it, I could give to my boy such advice as would make his own life at least as far removed from failure as justified by the natural ability he may possess.

I looked around for some authority which I might consult in order to give him the facts most essential with this idea of mine in mind, but I could find no one until I discovered that a great publishing firm in Chicago had decided to bring out a book giving the photographs of all the people who are prominent in America to-day. Here was what I wanted. The book, as I have learned, is going to be published in 16 parts, 16 pages to each, with a recent photograph on each page of some active leading American man or woman of to-day, while underneath appears the story of that same person's life—the story telling what that person did, and how the ends attained were eventually accomplished. Here was what I wanted; here was what I needed in various ways; here was what I was certainly seeking in order to obtain the information with which to educate my boy and secure for him that knowledge which will give him a source of thought and make him prominent in the world.

I have the first sheets of this work. It is a graphic story of America's Greatest Men and Women, told in each instance on a single page underneath a photograph of recent date, which conveys to the eye an idea of what that person is. To me the photograph tells even more than the suggestive record beneath; and yet it is odd how in each instance the correct story corresponds with the expression upon the face which is reproduced in the portrait above. I do not know how the series will end. I know very little about this new feature of the newspaper people; I know nothing about the publishers and their expectations, but I do know this: that if the series so begun should be continued to its practical, ordinary good sense end—and I don't care whether that will include 200 or 700 of America's Greatest Men and Women, which is the title of the book—I do know this, that for the ordinary, active and alert business man—I will certainly say far more for the student or the literary man, or the politician or the statesman—for all these I will say it will be simply the most valuable and the most remarkable book produced in modern history. The wonder is that some one has not thought of it before. Yet no one seems to have done so since the days of Plutarch. Plutarch knew something. That shrewd old fellow knew that all who would get out of the drift, all who would accomplish great things, wanted to know every detail of the lives of those who had better luck or more courage or a broader brain than their fellows; but I am no authority on these points. I only know that there is produced a second Plutarch's Lives, that its biographies are shrewd, graphic and curt, and written without bias and without prejudice. I only know that there was a Plutarch—God bless the old fellow—and that there is this modern work.

This is the work I am going to give to my boy. I am going to make him read it thoroughly. The work is announced as consisting of 16 Parts, with 16 pages and 16 photographs in each part, and when bound, the whole series will make a great volume of 256 pages, the like of which has never been equaled. It is the story of the personal character of the men and women who are making the nation's history at this particular time. What a work this is! Do you imagine that I would miss it for my boy, or, incidentally, for myself?

He Stopped the Play.

There is a law in France which inhibiters the life of every dramatic author, as it confers upon every French citizen the right of having a novel or play immediately suppressed by the police if his name happens to be mentioned in it. If a character in a comedy bears the name of Dupont or Dubois, all the Duponts and Duboises in France are entitled to insist on a change of the name, or, if the manager refuses, of the removal of the play from the bill. In their anxiety to avoid unpleasantness the parodists of the Cluny theater decided to designate the characters in a recent piece by means of numbers. The effect thus produced is somewhat peculiar, as for instance:

"Ah, charming 132, you are the most adorable of all women!"

"And you are a flatterer, Count 18."

While the two were thus exchanging compliments an elderly gentleman suddenly appears and called out in a voice of thunder:

"I have caught you now, Count 18! Are there any cowards in your family?"

"Gracious!" whispered Count 18, trembling in his shoes. "Gracious! Duke 53!"

"Seventy-four," exclaims the duke, "turn this gentleman out!"

But at this point a fellow in the audience springs to his feet. "This is really too bad!" he shouts in the direction of the stage. "I will send you a summons."

The duke answers in surprise: "What have you to complain of? Seventy-four is only a number."

"That's just it. It is the very number I bore when in jail, and I am not going to be degraded by having a servant dubbed with it."

Everybody had to give in to that argument. It was the law. The play was stopped there and then. I have never been able to ascertain what further befell the charming 132, Count 18 and Duke 53. I have not been able to sleep a night through speculating on the subject.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

As Large as an Egg.

The man from Port Huron was giving the reporter an item of news.

"Yes," he went on, after saying he had something to tell, "we had quite a storm up our way the other day."

"Any rain?" inquired the reporter.

"Some, but it was the hail I wanted to speak about."

"Much hail?"

"I don't know whether you would call it much or not, but there wasn't a hailstone fell that wasn't bigger than an egg."

"Come off!" dissented the reporter. "Did many fall?"

"Millions of them."

"You must be the hailstone liar," suggested the reporter.

"No, I'm giving you the straight truth."

The reporter still had his doubts.

"What kind of eggs?" he ventured.

"Fish eggs," smiled the Port Huron humorist, and the reporter made him pay for the cigars.—Detroit Free Press.

"I whup 'im case he done stole er mushmillion fom de freight train," replied Aunt Chloe, with a glance of indignation.

"He done stole er mushmillion?"

"Dat's whut he done. It's scan'lous ter t'ink ob dat boy whut we raise so keerful stealin mushmillions! An," she added, with increased feeling, "dah wus watahmillions in de nex' kyah!"—Washington Star.

Experienced In Women's Ways.

A young husband bought a handsome parrot from a sailor who had just returned from a voyage.

"But he cannot talk," objected the purchaser.

"Oh, that doesn't matter!" answered the sailor. "By the time your wife has had it a week you will not be able to make it hold its tongue."—Truth.

They Died for Love.

NEW YORK, Aug 22. Park Officer Thomas Flynn, while patrolling in Central Park, discovered the bodies of a young man and young woman lying dead on the grass near the pathway. They had committed suicide by shooting. The man was Julius de Marcus, who lived at 52 East Broadway. The woman was Juliette Fournier, of 251 South Fourth street, Brooklyn. A number of letters, signed by each, showed that they "died for true love." The woman was married, her husband being also her uncle.

Big Four Depot Destroyed by Fire.

CINCINNATI Aug. 22—The Big Four depot and adjoining buildings were burned yesterday, causing a loss of from $50,000 to $75,000. Captain Romus, Lieutenant Cavanaugh and Fireman Brohl were badly hurt by falling timber. The government bonded warehouse, adjoining the depot was burned, with valuable contents. Two negroes have been arrested on suspicion of setting fire to the building.

A Long Deadlock.

DALLAS, TEX., Aug 22—The Sixth district Democratic congressional convention, adjourned from Corsicana met here yesterday. At the adjournment the 1st and roll call had been reached without a break in the vote, which was as follows: Burke, 67 Poindexter 32, Abbott, 12 Hardy 5.

The Union Veterans' Union.

ROCHESTER, Aug 22—The fourth annual encampment of the Union Veterans' union is being held here, with 500 delegates in a tendency representing a membership of 50,000 survivors of the civil war. The commander-in-chief, General John H Roberts of Boston, presided.

Alexander Talks of Abdication.

LONDON, Aug 22—The Chronicle's correspondent at Vienna asserts that the abdication of King Alexander of Servia, in favor of his father ex-King Milan, is imminent. The Servian ministers strongly oppose the step.

The Salvadorean Refugees.

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 22—The gunboat Bennington with General Ezeta and the other Salvadorean refugees on board, is still kept at sea beyond the three mile limit. It is now positively known the warrants for the arrest of the refugees have been in the city since last week. It is generally believed the refugees will be landed today.

Cholera's Spread in Russia.

LONDON, Aug 22—A Moscow dispatch to The Standard says that the governor has been notified of the appearance of cholera at Nijni-Novgorod, a town of central Russia, where the largest fair in the world is held each summer. Sixty cases have already been reported. The disease is rather sporadic than epidemic.

ROCKFORD, Ills., Aug 22—A threshing engine on Hiram Berksmith's farm, three miles south of Byron, Ills., exploded yesterday. Hiram Berksmith was blown to pieces. John D Reese was fatally injured, as were Eman Brass and Hiram, John and William Lepkis three boys.

Death of a Presiding Elder.

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Aug 22—Rev. J. Max Lantz, D D., presiding elder of the Juniata district, Central Pennsylvania conference, died last night. He became ill at the Newton Hamilton camp meeting, of which he had charge, and was removed to his home here on Monday.

Denied by Mr. Pullman.

CHICAGO, Aug 22—George M. Pullman denies the report of the engagement of his daughter Florence to the Prince of Isetberg Limburg.

The California Democrats.

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 22—The Democratic state convention convened here yesterday and adjourned after perfecting an organization with R. P. Debval, of Los Angeles, as chairman. For governor the leading candidates are ex-Congressman James H Budd of Stockton and Barney Murphy of San Jose. The name of Congressman Maguire is also prominently mentioned as a candidate for the nomination.

More Memphis Boodlers Indicted

MEMPHIS Aug 22—The grand jury yesterday returned another large batch of indictments against saloon keepers, merchants, retail liquor dealers and others who have been conducting business without license. The indictments aggregate a total of 707 true bills found so far and the investigation will be pushed. The lawyers of the gang which they hope to escape are to attack the constitutionality of the law and this will be their line of defense.

No Parcel Post with England Yet.

LONDON Aug 22—Mr Arnold Morley, postmaster general, announced in the house of commons last evening that the United States government had not seen a way as yet to arrange for the establishment of a parcel post with England. The negotiations were still going on, he said, and he hoped that they might result eventually in the adoption of an arrangement.

Resigned from Parliament.

LONDON, Aug 22—The Times announces the resignation from parliament, on account of ill health, of Patrick A. Chance, Irish nationalist, member of the house of commons for the south division of Kilkenny. There is little doubt that the vacant seat will fall to the Healyite section of the Irish party.

Corbett and Jackson Willing.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 22—The Sioux Athletic club has received telegrams from Corbett and Richard K. Fox indicating that the pugilists are willing to sign an agreement to fight if the $25,000 purse is assured. The mayor, however, still insists that the fight cannot take place here.

MEDICINE'S VICTORY.

EVEN LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA SUCCUMBS TO ITS INFLUENCE.

The Wonderful Recovery of a Man Who Was Supposed to be Incurable --Interviewed by a Reporter.

From the Oswego, N Y., Palladium

"For nearly two years I suffered from locomotor ataxia. I tried numerous physicians without experiencing the slightest relief. As a matter of fact, I was growing worse all the time, until I was as badly off as human mortal could be, almost, and then I learned of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I bought four boxes determined to give them a fair trial; stopped taking all other medicines and liniments, and here I am to-day, as well, and almost as strong as ever. Pink Pills gave me the relief I sought, and with much pleasure will I recommend them to others who suffered as I have."

That's the story T. D. McCarthy, of No. 89 Varick street, told to a Palladium reporter yesterday.

Everybody in the Fifth Ward knows "Tim" McCarthy, and those who had seen him in his sickness and now enjoying his full health, regard his cure as something little short of miraculous.

"Tell me of your sickness," said the reporter.

"There isn't much to tell," said Tim. "I am twenty-four years old, unmarried, and when at home I live with my parents in Varick street. In October, 1892, I was working at my trade, that of a machinist, in the Eames Vacuum Brake Works, at Watertown, N. Y. I had been sick for several weeks before I gave up and quit work. A tired feeling seemed to have taken possession of me, and rest as long and well as I might I could not get rid of it. I took tonics and other medicines prescribed by the physicians there but kept getting worse all the time. Finally I became so bad that I could only walk a short distance, and that with the greatest exertion. My limbs seemed to me like so much lead, and there was a hitch in my walk. While walking I couldn't think of anything, not even the name of an acquaintance whom I might happen to meet on the street. Dr. Stevens of Watertown, was my physician, and he it was who informed me that I suffered from locomotor ataxia, and advised me to go to my home. In the spring of 1892 I came to my father's home in Oswego. I had about given up all hope of ever being anything but a helpless invalid. I couldn't sleep at night, and the physicians who attended dosed me with morphine and other opiates. Every day I tried to walk, and every day I appeared to be less able than the day before. I was about the worst looking wreck of a young man that you could imagine. It was in June, 1893, that I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I hadn't used the first box when I began to feel beneficial effects. My limbs appeared to be stronger and better able to sustain me. Gradually this feeling increased until finally I was able to lay aside my crutch and cane. Now I can walk or run as well as ever. I have for sometime past engaged myself in light work. I can't say too much for the Pink Pills. I hope every sufferer will try them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are not a patent medicine in the sense in which tha term is usually understood but are a scientific preparation successfully used in general practice for many years before being offered to the public generally. They contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood, and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of the grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases resulting from vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale or sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and are never sold in bulk or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you.

Population of the State Hospital.

According to the Conglomerate there were, Wednesday, 1,060 patients in the State Hospital, in this city, of whom 523 were males and 537 females. During the week seven patients were admitted and two discharged.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in one to three days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause, and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. Seventy-five cents. Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown.

OUR MINISTER TO CHINA.

Has Held the Office Nine Years and Is Experienced In Diplomacy.

CHARLES DENBY.

Hon. Charles Denby, United States minister to China, believes the Celestials will score a knockout in the war with Japan, and that, although the battle may last a great number of rounds, China's immense resources and staying powers will give her the victory in the end. Mr. Denby was on leave in this country when the war began, but he is now hastening back to his post at Peking, which he expects to reach about Nov. 1. During his absence his son, Charles Denby, Jr., is charge d'affaires as secretary of the legation.

Minister Denby, who is now a citizen of Evansville, Ind., was born in Botetourt county, Va., about 68 years ago. He was educated at Georgetown college and was such a good student that he captured three medals for the merit of his work. His education was finished at the Virginia military institute, and in 1853 he followed Greeley's advice and went west to grow up with the country. He located in Evansville, where he wrote for a newspaper and studied law. He was admitted to the bar and dabbled in politics with such success that he was sent to the legislature. In 1858 he married a daughter of ex-United States Senator Finch of Indiana and was surveyor of the port of Evansville under President Buchanan.

When the civil war began, Mr. Denby entered the Union army and made a gallant record in the field. He was lieutenant colonel of the Forty-second regiment, Indiana volunteers, and colonel of the Eighteenth regiment and was twice wounded while in the thick of the fight. He left the service in 1863 and resumed the practice of his profession. After over 20 years of work at the bar, in 1885 he was appointed minister to China, a post he has held ever since, although ex-United States Senator Henry W. Blair was appointed as his successor by President Harrison. China, however, politely informed the United States that, owing to his anti-Chinese legislative record, Mr. Blair would be considered non persona grata in the Celestial Kingdom, and consequently Minister Denby remained at his post.

WILL BE QUEEN OF TRINIDAD.

How an American Girl Married a Baron Who Aspires to Kingship.

One of the numerous ambitious American girls who angle for the lords and barons of the monarchies of the effete east has married a prospective king and will be queen of the new kingdom of Trinidad. To be sure, the island she is to assist in ruling over "has neither goats nor hogs nor any people," but the people and the pork will come later, and as for the goats—the winds of Trinidad will doubtless get on very well without bewhiskered billys.

The name of the prospective queen of Trinidad was Miss Anna Flagler before she became the wife of Baron Harden Hickey, who is to be James I of Trinidad, and she is the daughter of John H. Flagler, the Standard Oil magnate. Trinidad is about 23 miles long and 3 miles wide. It is rocky and mountainous, but has a fertile soil, and despite the fact that it was taken possession of in the name of Great Britain by Dr. Halley, the explorer, in 1700 no one seems to care for it except Baron Harden Hickey.

The island is about 700 miles off the coast of Brazil and should not be confounded with the Trinidad near Caracas, Venezuela. It has no good harbor and may only be approached by shipping when the sea is calm. The shores are thronged with huge turtles, many of which weigh 700 pounds, and the sea is full of palatable fish.

Baron Harden Hickey is 40 years old, was born in France, although his ancestors, the Hickeys, originally came from Ireland. He was educated at the college of the Jesuits at Namur, and afterward at Leipsic, where he became well known as a duelist who would fight at the drop of the hat. In 1873 he devoted himself to sculpture and literature, and later founded a royalist paper in Paris which involved him in a dozen duels, for which he paid government fines aggregating 300,000 francs. He then took a long sailing voyage, was cast upon Trinidad, became a Buddhist in India and married Miss Flagler of New York in 1891. The baron will people the island with subjects chosen by himself and will be monarch of all he surveys, providing Queen Victoria does not call a halt on the seizure of her territory.

More than half the street railway mileage in the United States is now operated by electric power.

STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

Closing Quotations of the New York and Philadelphia Exchanges.

NEW YORK, Aug 21—The stock market today was active but the sellers were in excess of the buyers and there was considerable liquidation as well as for the short account. A Colored Desperado Killed.

LANSDOWNE, Pa., Aug 22—Henry Saxton, a colored desperado who has long terrorized Delaware county, was shot and killed by Constable Benjamin R. Day, of Yeadon, yesterday. The constable had a warrant for Saxton's arrest, and in attempting to arrest the negro was stabbed several times. Finally, after a desperate fight, the constable drew his revolver and fired two shots. Constable Day is seriously wounded, but will recover.

Charged with Cruelty to a Child.

LEBANON, Pa., Aug 22.—John Halk, who lives near Conewago, appeared before Alderman Booth yesterday and took out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs Annie Martin, whom he accuses of having cruelly beaten his 11-year-old daughter Alice. The child lived with Mrs Martin and it is said the little unfortunate's body bears signs of cruel and inhuman beatings, being literally covered with cuts and bruises.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

Tuesday, August 28th,

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor will visit Middletown one day each month. Office hours from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic electors of the state of New York are requested to meet on Saturday, three o'clock p. m., at their respective polling places, and elect delegates from each Assembly District to a State Convention to be held at Saratoga Springs on Tuesday, Sept. 25th, 1894, at 12 o'clock m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates to be voted for at the coming election, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The father of twenty-nine children killed himself in Danbury, Conn., last week. The wonder is that he did not do it long before.

The pay of Constitutional Convention delegates stops Sept. 15th. They may sit as long as they please after that date, but it is safe to say that pay and sessions will stop together.

"A government ownership of railroads is better than a railroad ownership of government," said Debs in his testimony before the Strike Commission. Not a bad way of putting it.

Maryland is still one of the great wheat growing states in the Union, and in the fertile valleys of the central and western part of the state yields of twenty bushels to the acre are not uncommon. This year the farmers have the largest crop in twelve years and the price is the lowest ever known.

New York city's tax rate for the current year for State and all local purposes will be only $1.79 on $100. Last year the rate was $1 82. Middletown, with a city tax rate of $2.43 and a State and county rate that brings the total to $3 33 per $100, would be better off if it had some of Tammany's methods in the administration of its affairs.

The anti Platt Republicans of New York city, in figuring on the chances of defeating him in the State Convention, are counting on a divided delegation from Orange county. They are reckoning without a knowledge of Boss Ben Odell, Jr. He is one of Platt's most loyal adherents and his word is law with the Republican workers in this county. If he tells them to get in line for Platt's man, every man who has political ambitions will toe the mark, and Orange county will be for Platt first, last and all the time.

The Constitutional Convention, yesterday, rejected propositions to increase the number of judges of the Court of Appeals from seven to nine, to reduce their term of service from fourteen to seven years, and for a Court of Appeals of fourteen judges, to sit in two divisions. An amendment, proposed by Col. Dickey, of Newburgh, providing for a second division of the court to be composed of seven justices of the Supreme Court, to be called by the Governor when the accumulation of cases on the calendar makes it necessary, was adopted.

The first set back in the rise of prices for securities in Wall street, which began in the hour of agreement by Congress on the new tariff bill, was experienced, yesterday, and this is what the New York Tribune says about it: "There was a sudden appearance in Wall street, yesterday, of rumors to the effect that President Cleveland had decided to veto the Gorman tariff bill. * * * The effect on the street was adverse." The Tribune characterizes the new tariff as "a bill of sale," "a ruinous and destructive measure," and yet, by its own admission, prices tumbled in Wall street when it was said the President would not suffer it to be made a law. Funny—very funny.

Mr. Herbert Myrick, whose name, says the Boston Journal of Commerce is a guarantee of the accuracy of the compilation, prints in that paper the following comparative statement of the average ad valorem duties on textile manufactures in the new law, as compared with the McKinley tariff, and the tariff of 1883:

Schedule	Cotton.	Flax.	Wool.	Silk.
New law (per cent ad-valorem)	31	2	31	30
McKinley bill	40	42	40	40
Mills bill	40	25	40	40
Tariff of 1883	40	1	67	45

The cut in wool, apparently so large, it should be understood is made so to appear by raw wool having been made free. The tariff of 1883 was a Republican tariff, was framed by leading protectionists of that day, and yet, as will be seen, the average duties levied by it are a trifle lower than the average duties under the law just enacted. Nevertheless, certain of our Republican contemporaries speak of it as "the infamous and destructive Democratic tariff."

A FINE CROP OF ONIONS.

The Orange County Celery Gardens Yield a Large Crop of Fine Quality.

The onion crop on the Orange county celery gardens, between Eight-and-a-Half Station and Howells Depot is an unusually good one, this year. The yield was large, and the onions are of the approved market sizes and brilliant in color. Mr. Cooper DeGraw, who had a large tract under cultivation, has erected a storehouse in which he will store some 900 bushels, expecting on account of the fine marketable quality of his crop to realize higher prices later in the season. The onion crop in all the districts supplying the New York market has been a partial failure this year, the Greycourt Meadow crop having been short in quantity and inferior in quality, many of the bulbs being imperfect.

It is safe to say that nowhere in the State have onions yielded as well and been of as fine quality as on the Orange county celery gardens.

A SLIGHT FIRE.

Timely Discovery of a Blaze in Randall's Paint Shop on Mill Street

While Le Grand Weller, a clerk in Osburn & Brown's, and Daniel Odell, a painter, were passing William Randall's paint shop, 13 Mill street, about 6:30 o'clock, last night, they noticed the shop was on fire. The door was locked, but procuring a plank, they used it as a battering ram and soon loosened the door and, rushing in, quickly extinguished the flames, which were in some painters' overalls hanging in the shop.

The fire is supposed by some to have been due to spontaneous combustion in the oil soaked garments but Mr. Randall thinks that it may have been caused by matches, a box of which stood on a shelf just above where the overalls were hanging.

ADRIFT ON THE WORLD.

One of Napoleon's Soldiers and His Wife Homeless and Friendless in Their Old Age.

The Port Jervis Union tells a pitiful story of the hardships of an aged couple who are being shifted about country from one poormaster to another.

The man's name is John Unlicher. He is 98 years old and was a soldier under the first Napoleon. His wife is considerably younger than himself but is an invalid.

The couple were in Port Jervis a week ago but as usual were sent to Middletown by the poormaster.

The Union says the couple were sent from this city to Goshen and from there to New York, where they were found on Park Row in a condition of abject misery and were sent to the almshouse at Flatbush, and were sent from there to Port Jervis again.

Superintendent Merritt now has the old couple in charge but it is doubtful if he will keep them long.

It would seem that there ought to be some place where these aged people could be cared for.

STATE ASSESSORS COMING

They Will Meet the Supervisors and Assessors of Orange County in Newburgh Wednesday, August 29.

From the Newburgh Journal.

Mr. Ingham Stubley, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, has called a joint meeting of that Board, and the assessors of the towns and cities of Orange County, to meet the State Board of Assessors, in the Common Council rooms, Newburgh, on Wednesday, August 26, at 10 o'clock a. m. The town and city assessors are notified to bring to that meeting their assessment rolls for 1894.

The call is sent out by request of Mr. William H. Wood, of Poughkeepsie, Chairman of the State Board. The other members of that body are Mr. John A. Mason, of New York city (formerly of Newburgh), and Mr. Henry D. Brewster, of Weeds port.

Father Brady's Successor.

Rev. Father A. C. Meridith, of Walden, has been appointed by Archbishop Corrigan pastor of the Roman Catholic Church at Montgomery.

The appointment carries with it the pastorate of St. Paul's Church at Bullville.

Mr. Igo, who will be eighty years of age in November next, first came to Middletown fifty-five years ago, and he has ever since resided here or in this vicinity. He was for eighteen years a farmer at Scotchtown. He is as active as many men of forty years.

Senator Lexow's Partner Released from Arrest

William H. Bannister, of Nyack, a law partner of Senator Lexow, who was arrested, Sunday, at West Brighton, Coney Island, and held on a technical charge of intoxication, until the more serious charge of trying to lure away young girls, preferred by a Mrs. Johnson, could be investigated, was discharged, yesterday. There was no evidence against him, except the complainant's hearsay testimony, and when it was stated that she had demanded $300 for withdrawing the complaint, the justice quickly ordered the prisoner's release.

Very Inaccurate Ancient History

From the Paterson Press

Obstructionists of the trolley road in Middletown, N. Y., have prevented the laying of track on portions of a certain street. This does not bother the trolley men, for they run the cars over bare ground until they strike the track again.

THE MIDDLETOWN RACES.

Three Interesting Contests — Grace Hastings, Ida B and Ella Madison the Winners in Straight Heats—The Talent Dumped in the 2:30 Race—Today's Events.

The Middletown Fair and Driving Park Association is to be congratulated upon the auspicious opening, yesterday, of its four days' trotting meeting at the Campbell track.

The track, although a trifle dusty, was in first class condition, and showed plainly the good results of the hard labor upon it during the past few weeks.

The programme provided for the first day was carried out without a hitch of any kind. The races, while not furnishing any great surprises or intense excitement, were of a very fair order, and although won in straight heats proved very interesting.

Grace Hastings made a show of her field in the three minute race, winning in the easiest possible manner, the only horse that made any pretence of racing with her being Quarter March.

A strong tip was given out on Harry G as a sure winner of the 2:30 race, early yesterday morning, and the talent plunged on him before the first heat of the race. He is reported to have gone a mile in 2:13, and it was thought nothing else in the race could touch him. The Newton contingent, however, pinned its faith to Ida B., and the easy manner in which the mare disposed of her field led many to believe that she was nearer the nineteen mark than Harry G.

The colt stakes for foals of 1893 was a regular cinch for Ella Madison, who trotted around at the head of the procession like a veteran.

The Durland colt showed some good qualities and looks like a coming horse.

TO DAY'S EVENTS.

A much larger crowd is in attendance this afternoon, fully 2,500 people being on the grounds. The grand stand was comfortably filled at 1:45. The betting ring contained a much larger crowd of speculators than was present yesterday, and every one seemed to have money to burn.

THE 2:30 PACING RACE

The first race on the card was the 2:30 class, pacing for a purse of $400.

The horses were called to the post at 2 o'clock. Weed Wilkes sold a strong favorite over the field.

The judges were the same as yesterday, excepting Mr. Nate Hubbard, of Chester, who officiated in place of Mr. Gibbs.

The horses got away on the third trial. Royal Belle took the lead and was never headed. Weed Wilkes, the favorite, did not seem to like the turns of a half mile track and the best he could do was to get third place. Genevieve was a poor second, two full lengths behind the leader. Spain was distanced.

SECOND HEAT.

The second heat of the 2:30 class was a horse race. Royal Belle and Genevieve had a tussel in the first half mile, the latter finally breaking and losing a great deal of ground. She soon caught her stride again and coming away very fast caught Royal Belle in the stretch. They came down together like a team, and the result looked like a dead heat. The judges, however, thought the bay mare had a trifle the best of it, and gave the heat to Genevieve in 2:23¼. Weed Wilkes came in third, Kansas Wilkes fourth, Barefoot fifth. Hat Rack was in trouble and failed to get inside the distance flag.

THE 2:21 TROTTING RACE.

The first heat of the 2:21 class, trotting for a purse of $500, had seven starters. Boy Blue sold favorite over the field. After several scores the field got away in a bunch. Boy Blue had a commanding lead to the second turn when Shipman forced him off his feet, and he was unable to regain the lost ground. Shipman trotted without a break, crossing the wire a length ahead of Harry G and Daconis, who were almost neck and neck. Millionaire was distanced.

SECOND HEAT.

The second heat of the 2:24 class was the finest heat that has been seen on any track in this vicinity in many a day. Harry G. won by a half length, four others in a bunch all the way round the track, the bunch passing the judges as follows: Harry G., Shipman, Boy Blue, David P., Daconis 5 and J. U. C.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Death of Mrs. Powell—A Wise Precaution—Republican Town Caucus—Going to Niagara—Old Times Recalled—Other Notes.

From Our Regular Correspondent

—Mrs. Sarah A. Powell died very suddenly, last evening, of peritonitis. She was taken sick Sunday, and grew steadily worse until she breathed her last. Her husband and children survive her. She was a good wife and mother, and the whole village sympathizes with her family in their loss. She was in her thirty-first year.

—The Main street flagman will remain at his post an hour later on the next two band concert evenings.

—The Republican Town Committee has issued a call for a caucus for the election of delegates to the various conventions, to be held at the Court House, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

—A number of our young men will take advantage of the excursion to Niagara Falls, next Saturday.

—Mr. Henry Landy is on the sick list.

—"Si" Hicks (colored), one of Mark Twain's characters, made a round of the stores, yesterday, looking for the key to the turtle-box. This brings back to us the days of Abe Van Riper and his famous key to the bear pen.

—Mr. John Berry, of Newark, N. J., is the guest of Mr. John Dusenberry, of this village Mr. Berry is connected with the Surrogate's office at Newark.

—Mr. George Millspaugh started, yesterday, for Sylvan Beach, on Oneida Lake, where he will remain a day or two, and then continue on to Oswego and take in the big parade of the State Firemen's Association.

—Rev. J. G. Oakley still remains in Goshen among old friends and acquaintances.

—Mr. F. C. Hock has the contract to furnish programmes for the Middletown races. He will also have charge of the same department at the Goshen races, next week.

—Mr. C. Hulse and daughter, Mrs. Evans, are spending the week at Asbury Park and Ocean Grove.

—The Gorhams will play the Goshens, to-morrow, at the Driving Park.

—Mr. Lefferts Hoffman is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hoffman.

—Thomas Noonan, the Port Jervis rounder, who, when arrested for drunkenness Monday, was allowed to go on his promise to leave town, and who, instead of keeping faith with the P. J., filled up again and was again run in, was sentenced, yesterday morning, to four months in the penitentiary.

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN.

The Next Guild Entertainment—Some Personal Notes—A Plea for Church Bells

From a special correspondent.

—The Till Family will give one of their entertainments at Music Hall on the evening of Monday, Sept. 3rd, under the auspices of the ladies of St. James's Guild. The most remarkable instrument upon which this family play is the rock harmonicum, made from pieces of Skiddaw granite, from six inches to four feet in length. Beside this instrument, they perform upon musical glasses, zithers, swinging harps and Alpine violas. Their programme also includes vocal music and selections given by the famous humorist and dramatic reader, Miss Adele Weber. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the payment of the church debt The price of tickets for reserved seats is fifty cents; they may be obtained at Sayer's drug store, or from any of the ladies of the Guild.

—Mrs. and Miss Matthews left, this morning, for the seashore, where they will spend the ensuing week.

—The writer not long since heard a gentleman suggest that the ringing of the church bells for the different services on Sunday should be stopped, as every one having either a clock or a watch by which to tell the time, the bells were unnecessary and annoying. Perhaps in a large city the noise might be annoying at times, but surely in the country at least, but few would be willing to do without them, if only for the associations they awaken. The earliest associations of all are of a mixed character, the later ones sacred beyond the power of words to express. When we were very young, that summoning bell awoke in us feelings of mingled pride at being big enough to go to church, and pain at the thought of the length of the sermon and the shortness of our dangling legs. If the morning was hot and the window open, the barking of a dog or the flight of a bird across the glimpse of sky visible to us, was apt to awaken a longing for liberty in our breasts, and the thought, that like Will, that "thoughtless boy who cared for naught but play," we, too, should dearly like to "go forth into the pleasant fields and pass an idle day." The singing of the hymns was pleasant, but sometimes the prayers seemed very long and the sermon very tiresome, even although enlivened somewhat by surreptitious reading in our Sunday school books and secret longings that one of those beautiful, big, glass chandeliers would fall down with a crash, so that we might pre empt certain especially lovely portions of it. Later on, the associations grow more serious and holy. The sound of our own particular church bell cannot fail to summon up before our mind's eye, a picture of the interior of the edifice. The happy wife recalls the day on which she walked down the aisle, a bride; the mother, the service at which her child was christened; our dead have lain there and even the most careless and light-minded of us have at times left a portion of our burden of sin and sorrow there. Could we quite bear to miss the story the bells tell us once a week? G. H.

OBITUARY.

Mortimer Tuthill.

Mortimer Tuthill, of Unionville, died in this city, yesterday, aged 44 years. Deceased was a son of Lewis and Lucinda Tuthill, and is survived by the latter and also by his wife, Ida Dusenberry, to whom he was married about twelve years ago.

Mr. Tuthill was for many years employed by McMonagle & Rogers in this city, and shortly after his marriage removed to Unionville, where he engaged in the drug business on his own account. He was postmaster there during President Cleveland's first administration.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

Overseer of the Poor Wood Falls Overboard in Highland Lake But Is Rescued.

Poormaster W. H. Wood had a very narrow escape from death at Highland Lake, yesterday.

He and Mr. Dwight Babcock were fishing in the lake. As is well known, Mr. Wood is a heavy weight and in trying to land a six pound bass, he lost his balance and tipped over the boat.

Mr. Babcock as the boat went over, grabbed the gunwale and soon righted it, and succeeded in getting Mr. Wood into the boat.

It was a close call for Mr. Wood, who says he will never trust himself in a boat again.

ERIE'S CHEAP EXCURSION RATES.

To-morrow's Excursion to New York and Rockaway—Low Rate to Washington.

Do not forget the excursion of the Erie to-morrow, to New York for $1 for the round trip. Rockaway Beach for $1 25, and Buffalo Bill's Wild West including admission ticket and a sail of three hours down the bay for $1.50. Train leaves James street at 7:54, Main street at 7:56 a. m. Returning leaves 23rd street at 7:40, Chambers street 7:45 p. m. Tickets good only on special train both ways.

Commencing to-morrow, August 23rd, and continuing until August 28th, the Erie will sell tickets to Washington and return for $8.18 for the round trip. Tickets will be good to return on or before September 6th, and by depositing them with the agent at Washington before that time, limit will be extended until September 15th.

FOR THE PROMOTION OF AGRICULTURE.

A Bicycle Meet and Tourney an Attraction at the County Fair.

From the Newburgh Register.

The directors of the Orange County Agricultural Society held a meeting, yesterday morning, for the purpose of advancing arrangements for the fair of next month. It is probable that instead of securing a speaker for one afternoon that miscellaneous entertainments will be provided morning and afternoon of two or three days. Capt. Brundage will be asked to provide a bicycle meet and tourney during the fair.

Making Game of the Races

From Yesterday's Middletown Press.

The officials of the (Fair and Driving Park) association were on hand in good number, and they were very attentive to the wants of the spectators. The arrangements for seeing the games were excellent.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d. N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

A MERRY HEART.

Clear day or cloudy day,
Summer heat or cold,
A happy heart keeps holiday,
A merry heart is bold.
Though the wind of fortune blow
Out of wintry skies,
Face it smiling as you go—
A merry heart is wise.

By and by the sun will shine,
Day must follow night;
Darkest hour is the sign
Of returning light.
God is in his heaven still,
Though the world denies,
And cheery courage waits on will—
A merry heart is wise.

Over rugged things we climb
To our best estate;
We shall stumble many a time,
But we conquer fate.
And we choose the better part
So that will bless,
When we keep the dauntless heart,
The merry heart that's wise.

—Mary Bradley.

THE THREAD OF FATE

He was a little man—one of sarcastic speech might have called him a toy man. He strolled into a down town broker's office two minutes after the door was opened.

"Any money for me?" he asked languidly of the head clerk.

"No, but we shall want a little if we are to carry yesterday's purchases for you any longer, sir."

The clerk handed out a slip. The little man took it, glanced at it and then, putting the paper down, drew out his checkbook.

"The stock is bound to rise before the day is over?" he asked as he pushed the check through the clerk's wicket.

"Can't say, sir."

"But what do you think?"

"I don't think, sir. It's one of the rules of the house that none but the partners may give advice or information to the customers."

"Either partner about?"

"Not just at present, sir."

"Please have me notified as soon as it touches the figure I mentioned. I will sell out promptly when it reaches the right figure. I need the money by this afternoon."

"Mr. Wheaton has your instructions, sir, and he will follow them faithfully."

The little man sauntered out, entered a nearby cafe that is famous among Wall street men, ordered a champagne cocktail and a light breakfast and leisurely disposed of it. Then he lighted a cigar and smoked it reflectively for awhile.

"Bless me, it's 10:30 already!" he murmured, coming to himself and pulling out his watch. "I must get back to the broker. Dare say he's sold my little investment for me. In that case I'll have the money all right before noon."

The same clerk was still at the little window.

"Well?" asked the little man.

"More margins," said the clerk. "That stock is going down."

"Why, yes, indeed!" murmured the plunger. "This is really a heavier margin than I paid an hour or two ago."

But he took out his checkbook. There was not the sign of a cloud on his face as he wrote the figures—$3,000.

"Here you are," he said, passing in the check. "I wish you'd ask Mr. Wheaton if he can't hurry up the deal—I believe he called it that—for this affair is getting decidedly expensive. A few more such drafts upon me will exhaust me."

The clerk paid little attention to this remark. He was accustomed to such phrases. They were a part of his daily life.

The little man went out again. On the sidewalk he paused, looking irresolutely about him.

"Wonder what I can do to kill time?" he thought. "People who spend all their time around Wall street must find it terribly hard to kill time day in and day out. It's kind of monotonous to pass all the time in that cafe, but I don't see any way out of it. I'm very sure that I couldn't become a habitue of Wall street. I should die of ennui. However, I haven't time to go up town. I must be on hand to receive the money that this investment is going to bring me."

So he wandered back to the cafe. It was too hot to eat, and besides he wasn't hungry. He ordered a small bottle and tried to drink it, but met with only indifferent success.

Yet he managed to put in an hour at the cafe. Then he rose and went back to the office.

As he entered his eye brightened and he hastened his step, for he saw Mr. Wheaton in his private office.

"Well, what news?" he asked. "Have you sold out for me?"

"The clerk has something for you," Wheaton replied.

"Not another assessment, I hope?"

"I'm sorry to say it is." The little man walked rather hurriedly out to the clerk's desk, drawing out his checkbook as he went.

He merely glanced at the slip and then wrote out the check, but there was a cloud on his face.

"I hope the tide'll turn soon," he said. "I've only got $3,100 left, and then"——

"And then?" the clerk repeated.

"Well, perhaps you don't know what it means to me."

The clerk didn't even take the trouble to ask. Hard hearted? Well, brokers' clerks don't attempt to shoulder the troubles of the world.

"When things get to this pitch," murmured the little man to himself, "I suppose it's the proper thing to watch the stock ticker. I'll be blessed, though, if I know how to do it."

He confided his difficulty to the clerk, who obligingly explained to the neophyte what the seemingly cabalistic characters on the tape were really intended to show.

"I think I understand now," said the little man. "If you don't mind, I'll stay right here beside it."

"The tape is for the convenience of our customers," replied the clerk and went back to his absorbing task over the books.

For the next hour the little man stood by the ticker reading the occasional quotations of his stock.

"It's going down gradually," he murmured. "There'll be another assessment soon. Why can't the wretched stock go up?"

Even while he was propounding this conundrum to himself the clerk approached with another of those fateful slips.

"Nine hundred? Certainly," responded the little man, and the checkbook came out once more.

There was a look of decided annoyance on his face as he returned to the instrument that was slowly, relentlessly grinding out the serial story of fortunes won and lost.

Dr. Darcy, a friend of Wheaton's, was in the office with the broker.

"I've been studying that little fellow out there," said the medical man. "He is a good illustration of the crying evils of your line of business."

The broker smiled carelessly, then yawned as if either the heat of the day or the turn of the conversation rendered him sleepy.

"The little fellow hasn't dropped all of his pile yet," he remarked. "He's pretty near the bottom, though—of his pile, I mean—and he's on a losing stock too."

"Then, why not warn him in time?" queried the doctor.

"What would be the use?" counter queried the broker. "It wouldn't do any good, and it's no business of mine, anyway."

"Wheaton, surely you are not utterly heartless!" cried the doctor. He was an enthusiastic man when he got started on some pet idea. "I repeat, why not warn this young man in time? I tell you, Wheaton, that he has neither much mental nor bodily stamina, and if you permit him to be ruined he is likely to go insane—perhaps commit some violent crime—for which you, Wheaton, who permitted him to go to his ruin, would be responsible in the eye of heaven, even if not in the minds of men. Remedy your terrible work. I say, or you may have to answer to your own conscience for a crime that I would not have on mine."

Wheaton smiled again and repeated his query, "What would be the use of it?"

"Then I will go to him myself," exclaimed the man of medicine. "I will warn him before it is too late."

"And get yourself kicked, perhaps, for meddling in another man's affairs."

"I shall speak to him, anyway, and at once."

"Darcy, you will do nothing of the sort. You are always welcome in my office, but you must not feel called upon to interfere."

Dr. Darcy arose and began to pace up and down the little private office, keeping his sympathetic gaze riveted all the time upon the hapless speculator.

Finally he exclaimed:

"There's the poor little chap signing another check."

"I dare say," replied the imperturbable broker. "His stock has been falling down stairs all day long, and I am confident that tomorrow it will go down another flight of stairs."

Dr. Darcy gazed contemptuously at the cold hearted broker who would knowingly permit such an idiotic squandering of a fortune.

At last the closing came. The little man took a look at the last quotation.

Then he bounded into the private office, shouting:

"Wheaton, it almost closed me out. But it has stopped going down for today, and I've got $300 left."

"And sense enough into the bargain to let it alone and keep hold of your balance, I hope," roared Dr. Darcy. "That stock is one of the biggest swindles in the market."

Wheaton smiled. He had been filling out a document, which he now signed and handed to the little man.

"Thanks," said the latter, pocketing the paper, with a look of supreme satisfaction. "It's a nice little profit—enough to keep me in Europe for a year or more."

With these words he was gone. Dr. Darcy turned upon the broker and demanded:

"Wheaton, what the deuce does that little snip mean? Here he has been squandering money on margins all day long, and now he says that the profits will keep him in Europe for a year."

"It means," replied the broker, "that this little fellow belongs to one of the wealthiest families in New York. He and another very rich young fellow made a bet last night as to whether 1,000 shares of that stock would eat up more than $15,000 in margins today. Each put up half of the money to be used and besides that a wager of $50,000 a side. Our young friend who has just left won by a balance of $200. So, you see, it was a very lucky investment for him."

The doctor looked as if he didn't feel well. At last he blurted out:

"Wheaton, you made a fool of me in the most approved fashion. Of course you'll dine with me tonight, and we'll wipe out this score in the best wine I can buy."—New York Journal.

The Human Voice.

One's surprise at the fact that no two persons' voices are perfectly alike ceases when one is informed by an authority on the subject that, though there are only nine perfect tones in the human voice, there are the astounding number of 17,592,186,044,415 different sounds. Of these, 14 direct muscles produce 16,383, and 30 indirect muscles produce 173,741,823, while all in co-operation produce the total given above.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

ANARCHIST MAD.

Europeans, Especially the French, In a State of Alarm Approaching Panic.

The French authorities are in a state of alarm approaching panic over the warnings of fresh anarchist plots. The information has been furnished principally by London and other foreign police, and extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent the execution of the bloodthirsty designs. These measures are so stringent that all foreigners in France are likely to suffer inconvenience. Merely stopping to admire the architecture of the public buildings is likely to lead to arrest on suspicion, as an innocent Englishman found who gazed curiously for five minutes at the foreign office. The customs inspectors have been instructed to investigate the contents of everything larger than a small orange. The bill for the suppression of anarchy is one of the most drastic pieces of legislation in history. It literally fulfills Macaulay's prophecy that it might prove necessary to destroy liberty in order to preserve civilization. It almost forbids people to think anarchy. It certainly forbids them to mention it in a private letter. It tries offenders without a jury and on conviction sends them to solitary confinement and possibly to Cayenne.

Arrangements for international co-operation against anarchists are believed to be making satisfactory progress. Germany is the principal obstacle. More complete police co-operation will undoubtedly be agreed upon. The French police system will be reorganized and placed under one national head.

Chief Inspector Melville, head of the special or secret political department at Scotland Yard, has been pretty well worked to death in the last few months, what with murderous anarchists and roving royalties. The latter are a perpetual worry, for in these revolutionary days they have to be watched with the greatest care, and Melville has to do the work with a scanty staff and inadequate funds.—New York Sun's European Letter.

LOCUSTS FOR FISH BAIT.

An Experience In Canada Which May Be Taken Advantage Of.

The 17 year locusts are here this year. Old time anglers have had experience with this insect before, and those who are posted will be ready to take advantage of their periodical appearance. How the locusts may affect the fishing can be judged by an experience I had in Canada many years ago. I was fishing in a stream near St. Thomas, Canada, in which I before had caught many fine small mouth bass.

At one point, above a dam, there was a mill race, with a gate at the head of the race. When the mill was running this gate was open, and the water rushed through on its way to the mill, a half mile below. Many a fine string of bass had I caught below this gate, but at the time I speak of I could not get a rise. I tried live minnows, crawfish and flies, but without success. The locusts were everywhere. The bass, I noticed, were rising to something that fell from the trees, and at last I saw they were locusts. This gave me the cue, and securing a number of locusts I soon had one on my hook.

No sooner had it touched the water than there was a rush, and I was playing a bronze backer. Within two hours I had caught 27 small mouth bass, all nearly the same size, weighing a little over 1½ pounds each. Going below the dam, where the water flowed over, I gave it another trial with locusts, and there I caught two three pounders. It seemed as if they wanted nothing but locusts that day, but later in the season they would not touch them.

Should the locusts appear in large numbers this year, I will give them another trial whenever the opportunity offers.—T. B. in American Angler.

A NEW BRITISH EPILEPTIC COLONY.

A Private Asylum Will Be Opened Soon In Buckinghamshire.

We are glad to be able to announce that the National Society For the Employment of Epileptics will in a few weeks open their industrial colony for epileptics at Chalfont St. Peter's, in Buckinghamshire. We recently gave the welcome intelligence that a bill had been passed in the state of New York providing for the establishment in that state of an industrial colony for epileptics. The passing of this measure is, we believe, mainly due to Dr. Peterson's strenuous and able advocacy of the cause, and we heartily congratulate him on the success which crowns his labors.

In considering the American and the English schemes one cannot fail to be impressed by the contrast between our own methods and those prevailing on the other side of the Atlantic. Here we incline to institutions promoted by private effort. But in America the tendency is toward institutions originating under the auspices of public authority. Our national society will open its colony with 135 acres of land and about a score of patients.

The importance of congenial occupation as a therapeutic agent in the case of epileptics is now generally admitted, and it is well known that under ordinary conditions the lot of the epileptic is one of enforced idleness, detrimental to the interests of himself and his friends. Except by the establishment and adequate development of the colony this evil is not likely to be mitigated.—British Medical Journal.

Dr. Holmes' Autobiography.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes is reported to have said recently, apropos of his autobiography: "I work at the memoirs an hour or two each day and am making satisfactory progress—that is, I have about one-half completed of all I shall write. Then I shall place the manuscript in the hands of my publishers, and they will keep it in their safe until I shall have passed away. My belief has always been that a man's memoirs should be distinctly posthumous, and I shall carry out that belief in my own case."

STATE OF NEW YORK,

Office of the Secretary of State,

ALBANY, AUGUST 4, 1894.

Pursuant to the provisions of section seven chapter six hundred and eighty, Laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-two, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to article six of the Constitution of the State of New York will be submitted to the people of the said State, for the purpose of voting the con at the next general election in this State, to be held on the sixth day of November, eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Proposing amendment to article six of the Constitution of this State in relation to County Judges and Court of Sessions in the county of Kings.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

Whereas, At the last session of the Legislature, the following amendment was proposed in the Senate and Assembly, viz:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article six of the Constitution of this State be amended by adding thereto the following section:

"§ 25. There shall be in the county of Kings two county judges, each of whose term of office shall be six years. The county judge in office at the adoption of this amendment shall hold office until the expiration of the term for which he was elected. The additional county judge shall be elected at the general election held next after the adoption of this amendment, and his term of office shall begin on the first day of January thereafter. When the official term of any county judge of said county will expire by the effluxion of time or the disability of age, the successor of such judge shall be chosen at the preceding general election. Vacancies otherwise occuring in said offices shall be filled in the same manner as vacancies in the Supreme Court. The salary of said county judge shall be as now established by law for county judge in said county. Their powers and jurisdiction shall be co-ordinate and co-equal. One or more parts of the county court may be held in said county. The court of sessions in the county of Kings is continued with the powers and jurisdiction it now posses-es, and with such additional powers and jurisdiction as may be conferred by the Legislature: it must be held by a county judge of the county, and may hold one or more parts."

And whereas, The said proposed amendment was agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses of the said Legislature, entered on the journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the then next general election of senators.

And, whereas, Such election has taken place and said proposed amendment was duly published for three months previous to the time of making such choice, in pursuance of the provisions of article thirteen of the Constitution; therefore,

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Assembly do agree to the proposed amendment.

STATE OF NEW YORK,
IN SENATE, April 26, 1894.

This bill was read the third time and passed, a majority of all the Senators elected voting in favor thereof, three-fifths being present.

By order of the Senate,
WILLIAM F SHEEHAN, President.

STATE OF NEW YORK,
IN ASSEMBLY, April 17, 1894.

This bill was read the third time and passed, a majority of all the members elected to the Assembly voting in favor thereof, three-fifths being present.

By order of the Assembly,
GEORGE F. MALBY, Speaker.

STATE OF NEW YORK,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, } ss:

I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to article six of the Constitution with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. (Published pursuant to chapter six hundred and eighty, Laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-two, in two public newspapers in each county, in said State, representing respectively the two political parties polling the highest number of votes at the last general election, and in one additional newspaper in each county for every one hundred thousand people in such county, as shown by the last preceding State enumeration.)

Given under my hand and the seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the City of Albany, this fourth day of August, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four.

The Grocers' Well Earned Holiday—Make the Smokers Take Back Seats—Homeopathic Treatment of the Insane—Suspended for Not Paying Their Bar Bills.

It gives the town a queer look to have most of the grocery stores closed, but enough are open to supply the urgent needs of those families who did not heed the notices published, yesterday, and lay in to-day's supplies, last night. Even if the closing of these stores did cause general inconvenience, I do not think that any one would begrudge the grocers and their clerks a holiday. No class of business men work as hard. Their stores are open early and remain open until late at night, for the blessings of early closing do not extend to grocers and their clerks. More than this, they work hard all the time that they are at business and enjoy none of the elegant leisure of those in other branches of trade in which few sales and big profits are possible. The grocers and their employes have fairly earned a holiday, and whether they spend it at the clambake at Livingston Manor, at the races, at Midway, or in visiting friends, may they enjoy every minute of it and find in it health and pleasure.

Officers of the Traction Company should see to it that the notice posted in the open cars, that smoking is permitted only on the three rear seats, is strictly enforced. As it is, the rule is more honored in the breach than the observance, for while gentlemen who wish to smoke gladly take back seats, all men are not gentlemen and scarcely a trip is made that some fellow, utterly regardless of the rights of ladies and children, does not puff his pipe or cigar on a front seat. The smoke of even good tobacco is very offensive to many ladies, and when the smoke from barnyard regalias and "hod carrier's friend," the brands of cigars and tobacco most affected by the front seat smokers, is blown in ladies faces, the nuisance is intolerable and all the pleasure of a ride on the cars is spoiled. The Traction Company is at such pains to give the public a good service and is so careful of the safety, comfort and convenience of its patrons, that I am sure it will only be necessary to call their attention to this nuisance of smoking in all parts of the cars in order to have all smokers "sent to the rear."

The Springfield Republican, in a carefully considered article on the care and treatment of the insane, says that the homeopathic treatment seems to result in the largest percentage of recoveries, and cites the reports of the Middletown, Fergus Falls, Minn., and Westboro, Mass., asylums, all of them under homeopathic control, in proof of the assertion.

Within the past few days thirty railroad men in Elmira have been suspended from service as a result of complaints by a few saloonkeepers that they had not paid their bar bills. The men say that the bills would have been paid, as they always have been in the past, but that having been working on short time all summer they have not been able to meet their obligations. As for the saloonkeepers, now that they have destroyed the earning capacity of their debtors, it has just dawned on them that they have not improved their chances of getting their money, and they also find that the friends of the suspended men are giving their saloons a wide berth and boycotting them for what they regard as a very senseless and a very shabby piece of business.

THE BLACK CROOK.

The Greatest of Spectacles at the Casino, Aug. 25th

The Mardi-Gras of all spectacular productions, "The Black Crook," is booked at the Casino, Saturday, Aug. 25th. It is the same production that delighted thousands of New Yorkers at the Academy of Music in the big city, the company numbering sixty people.

The quartette of Folly dancers, who were the talk of Paris, and now with "The Black Crook," seem to be boneless, and their dancing is really marvelous. They have been in this country about a year and are so much pleased that it is more than probable that they will make America their home. It requires years of constant practice to accomplish their many feats and few girls have the patience to go through with the tedious practice, necessary to be successful.

Race Track Service on the Electric Road.

During races, and on Saturday, the opening day at Midway Park, cars will be run through between the North End and the Park, the Academy avenue line being served by a car making trips between Bent n avenue and Genung street. The new service was inaugurated, yesterday.

During the hot weather impurities in the blood may seriously annoy you. Expel them by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

THE MERCHANTS' CLAM BAKE

Attendance Fair But Not as Large as in Former Years.

The merchants' clam bake is being held at Livingston Manor, to-day, and Middletown has from 300 to 500 representatives there, not as many as usual, for the reason probably that we have an attraction nearer home in Midway Park, which is as fine an outing place as Sherwood's Park, and can be reached in a few minutes for the expenditure of a nickel. The conductors' bake, last week, also had the effect of keeping some people away from the Manor to-day. The races are also an attraction that kept many away from the bake.

A special train, this morning, took over 300 people out of Middletown, and the regular trains carried many more.

The weather is all that could be desired, and those who are there are doubtless having a rare day's enjoyment.

SULLIVAN COUNTY'S LARGEST LAW CASE

The Appeal Book in Wheeler vs Robinson a Volume of Over 700 Pages.

From the Port Jervis Gazette.

The Watchman office has just finished printing the largest law case ever published in Sullivan county. It is the appeal from the decision of Referee R. R. Jelliff to the General Term of the Supreme Court of the case of Osmer B. Wheeler vs. Edward F. Robinson and the Merchants and Manufactures' National Bank of Middletown. The suit was over certain stone quarries at Oakland Valley, which Robinson was alleged to have purchased from Wheeler and then refused to pay a certain balance due. The testimony covers 700 octavo pages.

THE HOGAN BOILER TEST

To Be Made Friday and Saturday by Prof. Carpenter and Mr. Eckert.

The expert fireman sent here by the Pocohontas Coal Company to take charge of the fires under the Hogan boiler at the State Hospital in the test for a record will arrive to-morrow morning.

Mr. Eckert, of Cornell University, who assisted Prof. Carpenter in the first test of the boiler, will arrive in town to-night, and Prof. Carpenter will reach here to-morrow evening. The test of the boiler by Prof. Carpenter and Mr. Eckert will be made Friday and Saturday.

W. C. T. U. Sociable.

There will be a sociable at the residence of Mrs. R. D. Southwell, 168 North street, Friday evening, Aug. 24th, for the benefit of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Mr. and Mrs. Southwell would be pleased to see all their friends on this occasion. Peaches, ice cream, and cake will be served.

THE ALBANY DRY GOODS CO.

Its Business Better Than It Was Last Year—Importing Goods Bought for It in Europe by Mr Geo. B. Adams.

The Albany Argus, in a recent issue, published interviews with some of the leading merchants of that city, as to trade conditions and prospects. Among those interviewed was the chief of one of the departments of the Albany Dry Goods Company, of which Mr. Geo. B. Adams, of this city, is President, who said that the business of the company was equal to that of last year, and in some departments better. He said that for the first time in its history the company was importing, through the port of Albany, thousands of dollars' worth of goods purchased for it in Europe by its own buyer. The purchases were made by Mr. Geo. B. Adams, who recently returned from Europe.

Almost a Strike on Newburgh's Electric Road.

There was an attempt to inaugurate a strike on the Newburgh electric road, yesterday, but probably fortunately for the men it failed.

The conductors on the road are paid by the trip—fourteen cents on the city routes and seventeen cents on the Orange Lake line, and wherever there is any delay from storm or otherwise, the conductors are the losers, and this is their grievance.

Oyster Bake at Midway Park

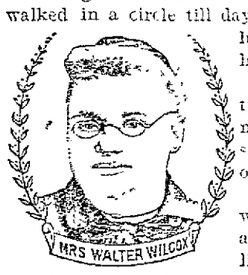
Ivanhoe Lodge, No 213 Knights of Honor, will give an oyster bake at Midway Park, Wednesday, Sept 12 n. A celebrated caterer from Massachusetts has been engaged to take charge of the bake.

WHAT A MISTAKE!

Mrs. Wilcox Suffered Years Thinking There Was No Relief.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING BULLETIN.]

One night in a terrible snowstorm a man walked in a circle till daylight because he thought that he was lost.



He had been tramping all night within a stone's throw of his home.

There is a woman in Philadelphia who lived for years in a daily circle of suffering, because she thought there was no relief.

Her suffering was caused by female weakness in its worst forms. She had pain in her back and loins, great fatigue from walking, leucorrhœa, local inflammation, and a frequent desire to urinate.

All this time relief was close at hand, and she had only to accept it with the same faith that has saved thousands of others. Every druggist had it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her of all weakness and disease, and she is now a different woman. This woman is Mrs. Walter Wilcox, of 736 West Street, who advises all women who suffer so from female weaknesses to try it and be cured. It cures kidney trouble in either sex, expels tumors, removes backache, and invigorates the system.

SCROFULA 12 YEARS

Always Sore. Face Burned Like Fire. Ashamed to be Seen. Four Doctors but Little Benefit. Cured by CUTICURA.

For about ten or twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula. My head was always sore, my face was inflamed badly, and burned like fire most of the time. My body had big red spots on it, and I did not know what to do. I went to different doctors and they helped me at first. In the fall I got worse again, then I tried other remedies, but they did me no good. I was ashamed to go into public. I was a sight to look at. Every one would say, "What is the matter, why don't you take something?" Even at my daily labor I had to wear a sort of cap to keep the dirt from getting into the sores. After I would wash, I would be covered with red pimples all over my neck and face. Some two or three people advised me to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I did so, and am glad I have done so. God bless CUTICURA and all who have helped to make it the best of medicines. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too highly. I choose to remain yours,

LEWIS W. LEHON, Lancaster, Pa.
